1. The Smith family returns home after a night at a Mariners game. When Mr. Smith lets his dog out, he notices the door open to the shed in his backyard. He knows that he closed the shed before he left for the game. He walks out to the shed and finds a person asleep in his shed. He calls 911. You respond and find the person still asleep in the shed. Mr. Smith tells you that nothing is disturbed, and nothing is missing from the shed. What crime would you arrest the subject for?
2. Would it change the charges if Mr. Smith found the person asleep in his unfenced yard?
3. You are dispatched to the Target store. You are advised that security personnel are holding a subject who was found back inside the store after he had been banned from the premises. The suspect is male, 5' 8, 160 pounds, black hair, brown eyes, wearing a white jacket, blue jeans, and tennis shoes. Upon contact, security advises you that he recognized the subject instantly, and the suspect was arrested immediately after he entered the front door of the store. What would you arrest the suspect for?
4. Does anything change if the subject is observed concealing two DVD movies from a display into his coat pocket before he is detained?
5. Dispatch receives a call from Mr. Peterson advising that he just watched two unknown male subjects enter his neighbor's house through a back window. He reports that his neighbors are out of town. Multiple units respond and locate two male subjects hiding inside a closet in the master bedroom of the residence. What crime(s) has been committed?
